REBEL THREATS ALARM RUSSIA

Petrograd Awaits the Attack of Kronstadt Ships.
Sailors from Garrison Bands of Demonstrations.

Decreed Provisional Government and War Minister.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.) PETROGRAD, June 4.—(Via London.)—Sailors from the Kronstadt, which recently declared independence of the central government, arrived in Petrograd early this morning with the announcement that warships at Kronstadt had come to Petrograd immediately and land men to make demonstrations.

Later it was reported that sailors had attacked Gatchina island, a suburb of Petrograd, but this proved untrue. However, it was not surprising to Petrograd, where the sailors were regarded as merely being in the park of the city and came to the city to the spot.

Petrograd waited today for the threatened demonstration of Kronstadt warships, and as time passed with no such demonstration, the city was relieved. The sailors who reached here last night were regarded as merely being in the park of the city and came to the city to the spot.

THEIR DEMANDS. The Kronstadt sailors who came to Petrograd said the demonstrations would be for the purpose of bringing about new democratic members of the Council of Ministers and Soldiers Delegates, and present members were denounced as bourgeois. The sailors also demanded that former Emperor Nicholas be handed over to them.

On the other hand, the satisfaction with War Minister Denikin and the whole Provisional government, particularly the fact of the death penalty, was characterized as premature. The correspondent found that a violent fire had been burning since last night, having been partly quelled. A large quantity of gas was used. There were evidences of a violent explosion. Windows at a considerable distance were broken.

FLIES RED FLAG. It appears that at 9 o'clock this morning the ice breaker Olenok, instead of the Kronstadt, was flying the red flag. On it, the sailors and workmen were hoisting the emblem of the Bolsheviks. The ice breaker stopped up and down opposite the city today on board a party of workmen and departed.

Simultaneously, seven large stones of phosphorus on the wharf of the city extended to a quarter of a mile, causing a violent explosion. The fire and were consumed. One was injured and buildings were damaged, except for the destruction of glass.

Inquiries show that it is almost impossible that anyone from the ice breaker. The explosion apparently was caused either by incendiaries from quarters of the city, or, as some suggest, spontaneous combustion.

The enemy stands at the gates and these within the protecting shelter of the mother church are more than ever under obligations to support each other. How can this be done in the most effective manner? Co-operation means working together for the same end. It is only by the rejection of all apathy, indifference or sluggishness."

There should be no question in our minds that our duty to God involves loyalty to a righteous government and to its constituted authorities. What are your policies? he asked. "What are your policies?" he asked. "What are your policies?" he asked. "What are your policies?" he asked.

UNEARTH PLOTS OF SPY SYSTEM.

Discover Wireless Shipments Made to Mexico.
Arrest of the Mail Suspects Leads to News Leak.

Warning of Fleet's Arrival Charged to Them.

NEW YORK, June 4.—Evidence that two complete high-powered wireless installations, assembled here from various sources, were shipped piecemeal to Mexico, supposedly for use of a German spy system in this country, was unearthed today in connection with the arrest of three men on charges of conspiring to send mail, containing military information, surreptitiously from the United States to Germany through members of Norwegian ship crews.

It was intimated by the United States commissioner before whom the alleged plotters were arraigned, that it was through their instrumentality that advance news of the impending arrival in England of the American fleet was sent to Germany before it even became generally known in this country that it had sailed.

Indications have been found that the secret mail system was operated both ways between the United States, Germany and Mexico. Several hundred letters have been seized and being translated in the expectation that they will open the way to full revelations of the alleged spy plot.

THE PRISONERS. The prisoners are Harry A. Forster and Irving Bonaparte, both said to be American born, employed by a German electrical company here, and Axel E. Melcher, said to be a naturalized citizen from Sweden. They are charged with conspiring to induce members of the crews of the steamships Bergenstorf and Kristiansfjord, both chartered to carry regular United States mails, to take letters and packages from this country destined for Germany, in violation of the law prohibiting competition with the United States mail.

When the three were arraigned before United States Commissioner Hitchcock bail was fixed at $25,000 for Forster and Bonaparte, and $30,000 for Melcher.

ALL THEY KNOW. That others are implicated and that the men under arrest are willing to tell all they know was indicated by counsel for Bonaparte, who said his client was willing to help the government in every way in his power.

A fourth man was detained pending investigation of evidence connecting him with the plot. He is Ferdinand H. Adams, a German citizen, employed by a German naval company here. Evidence has been found indicating that with his help the apparatus was assembled and consigned to Vera Cruz. Nothing was revealed today showing any criminal intent on his part, but the government is seeking to determine whether he knew the apparatus was to be used in a German spy system.

Part of the outfit, it has been learned, got through but part was held up in this country. Whether a complete set, capable of communicating with Germany, was received by the consignees in Mexico, has not yet been determined.

COURT-MARTIAL PROSPECT. WASHINGTON, June 4.—If three men arrested in New York in the mail-plots case are connected by the evidence with the forwarding which reached Berlin regarding the sailing of American destroyers a military court-martial is one of the possibilities facing the prisoners.

No comment on the case was forthcoming tonight, either from the Department of Justice or the War Department. If a military trial develops it would be conducted under Article 15 of the Articles of War, which provides that:

"Any person who in time of war shall be found guilty of acting as a spy in or about any of the fortifications, posts, quarters or encampments shall be tried by a general court-martial or by a military commission and shall, on conviction thereof, suffer death."

While War Department officials were not prepared to express in advance any opinion on whether the New York case might fall within the clause, it was pointed out that the law is sufficiently broad to cover any kind of espionage. If charges are made that the men involved actually transmitted or attempted to transmit to Germany information as to the movements of the American destroyers it was believed they could be turned over to the army for trial and in the event of conviction would be condemned to death, as the clause gives a military court no alternative from that sentence.

Warpath. CLASH OF COLOR AT LODGE MEET. NEGRO AMUCK WITH A KNIFE AND REVOLVER.

Solemnity of African Ritual Knocked into Smithereens as Frayed Member Hacks at His Wife and Becomes Target for Bullets—Blackballed, Jailed.

The rituals of the National Grand Council of the Ancient United Order of Knights and Daughters of Africa had just opened last night when the door of a secret chamber flew wide and Brother Fred Gatliff rushed into the lodgeroom with a long curved bolo in one hand and a huge revolver in the other.

Brother Gatliff, vested with all the ferocity of his ancestral tribe, exclaiming the noise, raised his bolo on high and toward his wife, Sister Octavia Gatliff, who, as First Maid of Honor, was bending over the chest of lodge regalia. Somebody screamed and Sister Octavia threw her hands up as her infuriated husband swung the bolo with such force that it would have decapitated her. The knife struck her hand and cut it to the wrist. Instantly Brother Carl Baldwin, who was near by, leaped upon Brother Gatliff to save the woman. Baldwin

NO TOTAL PROHIBITION.

Move Failure in Britain as Result of Central Board's Work. (A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.) LONDON, May 15.—The agitation for total prohibition is considered to be doomed to failure by those who have seen the good results effected by the Central Board of Liquor Control. It is stated that excessive drinking has ceased to be a problem so far as the army is concerned and that restriction will do all that is necessary in other walks of life.

The Central Board of Control's report says that by establishing a strict system for the control and inspection of public houses it is possible to reduce excessive drinking. In houses in which liquor can be sold under conditions of comfort and decency and in which recreation and the sale of food is provided, customers are less inclined to drink to excess.

Statistics show that for the first quarter of 1917 convictions for drunkenness totaled 8176 against 1744 in the corresponding period of 1916. 14,076 in 1915 and 15,997 in the first quarter of 1914.

PETROGRAD, May 15.—One important reform which the revolution has effected has been the abolishment of excessive holiday-making in Russia. Before the revolution, not only were twelve great church holidays celebrated but also the birthdays of the Emperor, Empress and the heir-apparent, the anniversaries of the accession to the throne, the coronation, etc. Instead of these, the first of May is to be instituted as a national holiday.

GERMAN WOMEN WORKERS. Many More than Men, the Official Figures Show. (A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.) AMSTERDAM (Netherlands) May 15.—There are more women than men workers in the German Empire according to the latest official figures. Sick benefit membership lists show that approximately 4,000,000 women workers are on the lists, or about 11,000 more than men, the latter totals including 700,000 war prisoners, who are working for the government in various capacities within Germany. Women applicants for employment continue in excess of positions open.

ANTI-FAT

Art thou stout and getting stout? Stop reprinting—cease to moan! Hee thee to the nearest drug store—Ask for Tablets Arboreus.

Arboreus will stop that craving. Make thee normal—that's well known. Thou'lt forget that hungry feeling After taking Arboreus.

And the pounds away will dwindle! Waist no longer like a cone; Thou'lt be thankful to the maker Of these Tablets Arboreus.

Note—This little poem was written by a literary woman of Los Angeles, Calif., as a testimonial to Tablets Arboreus. It so aptly and truthfully describes the virtues of this well-known anti-fat that the proprietors use it for advertising. Facts and gratitude are both expressed with admirable rhythm and metre.

CANNED FRUITS FOR RECRUITS.

Contract Entered into with Pasadena Company.

Superior Food Products will be Served the Men.

Many Who Register Early Ask to be Exempted.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) PASADENA, June 5.—Pasadena fruits, berries and vegetables will go to the army and navy in large quantities. This was assured yesterday, when government representatives closed contracts with local canners. One canner of which G. H. Orie is manager, will turn out hundreds of tons of canned goods this summer.

"The government is in the market to purchase immense quantities of California canned fruits, berries and vegetables," Mr. Orie declared. "This state not only will do its duty in sending recruits for the army and navy and in bearing its share of the financial burdens of the war, but also will furnish vast quantities of superior food products."

Three hundred persons will be employed at this canner during the summer. The local crop is large. The canner has contracted for 150 tons of blackberries and loganberries and will begin "putting up" these berries next week. The growers will receive approximately $15 more a ton this year than last. Seven hundred tons of apricots are to be canned, the canner paying $40 to $45 a ton, according to quality. About 3500 tons of tomatoes will be canned.

AIRPLANES IN LOFTY TANGLE.

Two Meet in Midair While Preparing to Land.

Pilots of Both Show Skill in Handling Craft.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) SAN DIEGO, June 4.—Two military airplanes collided in mid air today over North Island in one of the most unusual accidents ever known in aviation. The occurrence was the most spectacular since the crash of the Cerro Colorado ferry and on both in the bay watched the collision with horror. However, the pilots and passengers of the airplanes escaped uninjured.

First Captain Sergeant H. Frey was piloting one machine and Chief Civilian Flying Instructor N. E. Robbins, the other. Lieut. E. Clark of the Indiana National Guard was flying with Robbins.

Frey, who had no observer with him, did not see the second plane which was almost directly under him as he began gliding from an altitude of 400 feet to the aviation field at a speed of ninety miles an hour. The second machine was also preparing to land on the aviation field. Frey's plane struck the right upper wing of Robbins' machine.

The lower plane, driven by Robbins, went into a side slip. Frey's machine went into a tail dip. Frey righted his machine and put it into a nose dive. When it hit the water, the nose stuck in the soft mud. Frey, who had not lost his head for a minute, unstrapped the web belt which held him in and waited for the aviation patrol boat to take him to safety, without even getting his feet wet.

Robbins, with remarkable airmanship, righted his plane, put on full power and glided to safety with the machine undamaged. The accident occurred at an altitude of 400 feet.

Collisions in mid-air are rare in aviation and this would not have occurred if Frey had had an observer with him. Capt. Boelke, a famous German aviator, was killed by a similar accident, but in aviation accidents, but five military aviators have been killed by air collisions.

SEAMAN ASPHYXIATED. The story of the death of William Bowers of this city, a seaman of the power sloop California, by asphyxiation from gas fumes from the gasoline engine of the boat, was told today when the auxiliary schooner Albatross arrived from the Lower California coast. Bowers and Robert Eaton, both seamen, and Robert Eaton in the engine-room of the California and both were overcome by the burned distillate gas escaping between the cylinder walls of the motor and the pistons. Capt. Edward Bewick, master of the sloop, at the wheel, smelled the fumes and going below found Bowers dead and Eaton unconscious. It took many hours for Capt. Bewick to resuscitate Eaton.

Bowers was buried at San Gerardo Island, off the lower coast, and his grave marked with a rude cross by Capt. Bewick. The California sailed from here May 15 for Santa Camp on the lower coast, under charter to M. Kondo, Japanese fish dealer.

Care should be taken by the buyer in his selection of a well-conditioned, healthy goat. A goat should be free of burrs, dirt and other defects as he possibly can. The fleece needs also to be carefully protected from absorbing dirt in the corral, in the shearing pen, in the wool house, in the car, and, in fact, "all long shore." This done, he can hope for prices ranging from $5 to $75 cents per pound, even for grade mohair, and more than that for strictly pure fleeces.

Large areas of our rough California mountain and foothill lands, not fit for cattle, horses, hogs, or even sheep, are well suited to the raising of the hardy Angora goat. I say "hardy," but this is said with the qualification that the animal must be protected from bad weather, especially in wet weather. The animal will stand cold, but not cold and wet combined; nor will the kids endure high heat and drought without danger of giving up the ghost. Hence the strict necessity of some kind of shelter, no matter how cheap.

Angora-goat does are extremely prolific, dropping many twins and sometimes triplets. The average yield of a (birth) reach as high as 125 per cent. frequently, and in many cases as high as 150 per cent. With reasonable care and special attention at kidding time a percentage of 90 per cent. can be raised to maturity.

The writer has had the privilege of reading a letter written to a grower of this valley by Brown & Adams, the widely-known wool commission merchants of Boston, who are the authorized selling agents of the National Mohair Growers' Association. The letter is as follows:

"You will note on your grading report that in part of your shipment the fleeces were tied, and we would say that this is an unnecessary expense, as well as undesirable. Manufacturers do not like it that way and when it comes to our handling the fleeces over the board it adds a considerable amount of extra cost. You will also note that there were forty-one pounds (out of a gross weight of 7152 pounds) of dirt and trash in your shipment, which indicates that when the mohair was shorn it was not put up properly. It is a shame to have your mohair becoming soiled, but we want to say, if you have any more such shipments, we will be very busy having them free from dirt. It would have made a difference of about 20 cents per pound.

This is valuable information, which growers will find it to their interest to note carefully, not only in handling their fleeces but throughout their entire operations as growers.

The article mentioned contains a very brief reference to the milch goat, which is also an interesting animal, though essentially different from the goat of the Angora breed, which springs from Asia Minor. It occurs to me, without knowing very much about this branch of the goat subject, that there must be favorable openings for the cultivation of milch goats in that portion of this valley which lies in the hills south of the city and west of the region of the Sheep Ranch. It ought to be feasible for a group of milch-goat growers, now scattered and working to advantage, to get together and secure a lease on some of the hill lands in that portion of the valley, where they could gather their little herds together upon them and establish a combination milch-goat dairy to mutual advantage. Such a dairy could be located on a tract of about 100 acres, and could be built up at a point within thirty minutes of the center of the city, and within easy reach of hospitals and families supplied with the least possible delay. The profit would be considerable, and every foot of the way, over paved roads and streets, and not a minute be lost in transportation. This class of milk is very rich and sells for attractive prices.

This is a practical suggestion, thrown out by me for the benefit of the milch-goat growers, of which there appear to be a good many in and around Los Angeles, none of which, under the present scattered system, are doing as much business as they would be capable of doing under organization, system, preparation and an adequate though not costly equipment.

I enjoyed reading the valuable, picturesque and interesting sketch of the Mohair goat which you published in the Illustrative Magazine of October 14, 1916, and also the fine description of a Monterey county milch-goat ranch published in the magazine of May 19, 1917. Both "reeked with information."

Manufacturers do not like it that way and when it comes to our handling the fleeces over the board it adds a considerable amount of extra cost. You will also note that there were forty-one pounds (out of a gross weight of 7152 pounds) of dirt and trash in your shipment, which indicates that when the mohair was shorn it was not put up properly. It is a shame to have your mohair becoming soiled, but we want to say, if you have any more such shipments, we will be very busy having them free from dirt. It would have made a difference of about 20 cents per pound.

This is valuable information, which growers will find it to their interest to note carefully, not only in handling their fleeces but throughout their entire operations as growers.

The article mentioned contains a very brief reference to the milch goat, which is also an interesting animal, though essentially different from the goat of the Angora breed, which springs from Asia Minor. It occurs to me, without knowing very much about this branch of the goat subject, that there must be favorable openings for the cultivation of milch goats in that portion of this valley which lies in the hills south of the city and west of the region of the Sheep Ranch. It ought to be feasible for a group of milch-goat growers, now scattered and working to advantage, to get together and secure a lease on some of the hill lands in that portion of the valley, where they could gather their little herds together upon them and establish a combination milch-goat dairy to mutual advantage. Such a dairy could be located on a tract of about 100 acres, and could be built up at a point within thirty minutes of the center of the city, and within easy reach of hospitals and families supplied with the least possible delay. The profit would be considerable, and every foot of the way, over paved roads and streets, and not a minute be lost in transportation. This class of milk is very rich and sells for attractive prices.

This is a practical suggestion, thrown out by me for the benefit of the milch-goat growers, of which there appear to be a good many in and around Los Angeles, none of which, under the present scattered system, are doing as much business as they would be capable of doing under organization, system, preparation and an adequate though not costly equipment.

I enjoyed reading the valuable, picturesque and interesting sketch of the Mohair goat which you published in the Illustrative Magazine of October 14, 1916, and also the fine description of a Monterey county milch-goat ranch published in the magazine of May 19, 1917. Both "reeked with information."

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.) SOLDIERS' HOME, June 4.—There are a number of young men employed as hospital attendants, or in the kitchen and dining-rooms, or as bakers or farm hands. Some are residing with their families at Santa Fe and Westgate, but the majority are provided with quarters in and around the hospital.

Registration places for these young men are being held conveniently at Santa Fe and Westgate, but the majority are provided with quarters in and around the hospital.

Care should be taken by the buyer in his selection of a well-conditioned, healthy goat. A goat should be free of burrs, dirt and other defects as he possibly can. The fleece needs also to be carefully protected from absorbing dirt in the corral, in the shearing pen, in the wool house, in the car, and, in fact, "all long shore." This done, he can hope for prices ranging from $5 to $75 cents per pound, even for grade mohair, and more than that for strictly pure fleeces.

Large areas of our rough California mountain and foothill lands, not fit for cattle, horses, hogs, or even sheep, are well suited to the raising of the hardy Angora goat. I say "hardy," but this is said with the qualification that the animal must be protected from bad weather, especially in wet weather. The animal will stand cold, but not cold and wet combined; nor will the kids endure high heat and drought without danger of giving up the ghost. Hence the strict necessity of some kind of shelter, no matter how cheap.

Angora-goat does are extremely prolific, dropping many twins and sometimes triplets. The average yield of a (birth) reach as high as 125 per cent. frequently, and in many cases as high as 150 per cent. With reasonable care and special attention at kidding time a percentage of 90 per cent. can be raised to maturity.

The writer has had the privilege of reading a letter written to a grower of this valley by Brown & Adams, the widely-known wool commission merchants of Boston, who are the authorized selling agents of the National Mohair Growers' Association. The letter is as follows:

"You will note on your grading report that in part of your shipment the fleeces were tied, and we would say that this is an unnecessary expense, as well as undesirable. Manufacturers do not like it that way and when it comes to our handling the fleeces over the board it adds a considerable amount of extra cost. The men in charge of the military registration in Los Angeles. Photographed in the Council Chamber last evening. In addition to the City Registration Board of sixty-three, the picture shows many of the registration deputies, and, at the left, left to right, Mayor Woodman, City Clerk Wilde, G. Harold Powell, Southern California's registration director, and City Attorney Stephens.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT THE DRAFT.

The following questionnaire is presented for the purpose of answering most of the ordinary queries regarding the army draft. Upon unusual points, such as are bound to arise, the City Attorney, County Counsel, City Clerk and Registrar of Voters will pass. All of these offices will be open all day and until after the draft lists close.

WHO MUST REGISTER? All male persons, both married and single, citizens and aliens, including all subjects of enemy nations and aliens temporarily in this country, who shall have attained their twenty-first birthday and who shall not have attained their thirty-first birthday on or before today, are commanded to register for military duty in the forces of the United States on this day. Aliens entering this country after today must register at the port of entry.

WHERE WILL CITY REGISTRATION TAKE PLACE? Registrations will take place in the city of Los Angeles in the precinct where the person who must register lives, and at the regular polling place, between 7 o'clock a.m. and 9 o'clock p.m. At the Los Angeles city election takes place today voters between the ages of 21 and 31 may vote and register at the same time.

WHERE WILL COUNTY REGISTRATION TAKE PLACE? Those subject to draft and living in the county, except Pasadena, must go to the places that have been designated by the Registrar of Voters.

WHERE WILL REGISTRATION TAKE PLACE IN PASADENA? Men subject to draft and residing in Pasadena will register in booths provided by the Mayor and City Clerk.

WHO ARE EXEMPT FROM REGISTRATION? All male persons between the ages of 21 and 31 must register, excepting only officers and enlisted men in the regular army, the navy, the Marine Corps and the National Guard and Naval Militia while in service of the United States, and the officers of the Officers' Reserve Corps and enlisted men in the Enlisted Reserve Corps while in active service. Members of the National Guard who have not taken the Federal oath or been called into service and of reserve units not active must register. THOSE UNDER 21 AND OVER 31 ARE NOT TO REGISTER.

WHAT IF I AM TOO SICK TO GO AND REGISTER? Have a competent person apply to City Clerk Wilde, if you live in the city, or to Registrar of Voters Lyons, if in the country, for a copy of the registration card and authority to fill it out. If necessary, this agent may be deputized to fill out the card for you in your presence and you will sign it. This card must then be taken, together with a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to your registration precinct and the official there will mail you a certificate of registration.

IF I AM ABSENT AND UNABLE TO REACH HOME IN TIME TO REGISTER WHAT MUST I DO? Those who are absent from their place of residence, or who know that they cannot reach home in time to register, must go to the County Clerk or other officers in the county where they happen to be and secure a blank which he will instruct them how to fill out, and they must mail this blank to their registering officer, care of Sheriff or Mayor. This must be done at once. If traveling abroad, you must register within five days after returning. If you have friends abroad notify them of this fact.

IF I KNOW THAT I AM DISQUALIFIED MUST I REGISTER? Yes. There are absolutely no exceptions other than those named above. If you are 21 years old, and under 31, you must register.

WHAT ARE THE PENALTIES IF I DO NOT REGISTER? Any person who shall willfully fail or refuse to present himself for registration, or submit thereto as provided in the draft law, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, in the District Court of the United States, shall be punished by not more than one year's imprisonment and shall thereupon be duly registered. If subject to military law he shall be court-martialed and shall be punished as the court-martial shall see fit.

At every polling booth where registrations are to be taken today will be stationed the pick of the life-insurance salesmen of the city. It will be the desire of the government to have thousands of dollars subscribed to the new government bonds before sunset, or the day will be regarded as a failure. Outside the polling places will be members of the Boy Scouts of America, who will distribute circulars to everyone, exhorting them to buy one or more bonds.

It was decided yesterday by the committee of life-insurance men that their salesmen would be employed, not only on registration day but during the remainder of the week, in selling Liberty Loan bonds. A clever plan has been evolved for the financing of the United States in its war against autocracy. As this is registration day, the patriotism of the citizens of the Sunny Southland will be aroused to its greatest height. There are few who can serve in the ranks, but practically all can buy Liberty Loan bonds and help insure the success of Uncle Sam in his present undertaking.

RIOTERS AND SLACKERS GIVEN FAIR WARNING.

Thousand Armed Men Ready to Handle Any Trouble; to Enforce Law.

ONE THOUSAND men will police Los Angeles city and county today to prevent possible rioting or other violence and to see that every eligible man registers.

The force is made up of members of the police department, deputy United States marshals and deputy sheriffs. Of the 1000 men 227 are members of the police department and the remaining 773 are special and regular deputies.

Twenty-five fast automobiles and forty-six motorcycles are at the disposal of Chief Butler and Sheriff Cline, who will personally have charge of the policing work.

The Sheriff yesterday completed his preparations. His eighty regular deputies will be stationed at various points in the county, chiefly in the Mexican districts. Under the regular men will be squads of special deputies.

MEXICANS CROWD IN. Sheriff Cline will have approximately 350 men for service. He will have at his disposal several large automobiles with which to move his men about from point to point should necessity arise.

"We do not wish to be surprised tomorrow," said Sheriff Cline last night, "and we have made every preparation possible against such action. A great number of Mexicans have crowded into Los Angeles in the last twelve hours and here, I believe, the most trouble may be expected, as many of the Mexicans are I.W.O.'s and anarchists."

KNOW SLACKERS? United States Marshal Walton said yesterday: "I want every man, woman and child in Los Angeles to keep us in touch with those who are eligible to registration under the law and who refuse or neglect to do so. I will be on duty all day in my office, and if any person has information in regard to the 'slackers' I want to know who they are, and it will be my business to take them into custody."

Mail Frank McReynolds of the California Coast Artillery will have thirty or forty men massed at a convenient point to await any call that may be made for the protection of the police or Federal officers called upon to perform some unpleasant duty in connection with the enforcement of the draft.

Marshal Walton asserted that reports from various localities in the city and county indicate an absence of any real fear of serious trouble, and he expressed the hope that the day will pass without any necessity to commandeer the power of the national authority.

The marshal and all of his deputies will be on duty from the time the polls close until the time the polls open tomorrow.

SCORES WED AS DRAFT LOOMS.

The marriage license bureau did a land office business yesterday. On the eve of registration day, sixty-four young men applied for licenses to marry. They came from the North, the South, the East and the West. Frozen Alaska sent Harry A. Gabriel; El Paso, Glen O. Everman; Ottawa, Kan., Clarence R. Ives; and Jackson, Ga., Mitchell J. Ballard.

Thirty-four of the applicants gave their ages as within the conscription limits of 21 to 30, inclusive. According to R. S. Cupid Sparks, marriage license clerk, none gave any indication that they were preparing for marriage in order to evade military duty. Several stated they had registered before leaving home.

BILLBOARD POLITICS.
 It is to be deplored that the outstanding issue before the people in connection with the campaign of eighteen candidates for the City Council is the billboard question. However, Councilmen have forced the issue, and as it is worthy of serious consideration it must be met squarely by the electors.

Five of the seven incumbents who are candidates for re-election—Lindsey, Langdon, Wheeler, Wright and Roberts—have gone to the point of absolute defiance of the wishes of the people in taking up the fight of the billboard trust, an institution with a reputed capital of $50,000,000.

These Councilmen declare they are not in the clutches of this octopus, and are willing to vote for regulation of the billboards, but if they have even repudiated the efforts of the sign-makers to elect them they have failed to make it known. Consequently the public has the right to wonder if there is not something wrong in Denmark.

If these five members are not bound hand and foot by the trust why have they permitted it to smear the billboards throughout the city with advertising such as the following:

"Vote for Lindsey, Wheeler, Roberts, Langdon, Wright. They are our friends. They are your faithful friends. Have you read the fearless speeches of Councilwoman Lindsey and Councilman Wheeler? If not, call us [the billboard trust] up and we will mail copies to you."

If the Anti-Saloon League were to send you a circular containing the names of five candidates and telling you that they are "our friends" you would know without further information that the five referred to were bitter opponents of the liquor industry. And you must know after noticing the flaming type on the billboards that the "Solid Five" will vote for legislation favorable to the trust and against the wishes of the people in general.

That the members of the "Solid Five" who say they will not vote against your interests are not sincere is shown conclusively by the fact that they permit the use of their names on the unsightly billboards in all sections of the city. Opponents of the billboards have only asked that they be eliminated from the residence districts, and regulated in the business centers. These pro-billboard incumbents are using the big signs in all parts of the city, whether residential or business. If they had an honest aversion to permitting the billboard to flourish in the residential sections they could not consistently allow their names to adorn the boards in them.

These candidates have lamely endeavored to make it appear they are obstinate only because they would not be controlled by the newspapers. They have tried to make it a newspaper-billboard fight. The truth is that women's clubs, civic organizations and thousands of individuals have been warring against the billboard menace for years, and the Supreme Court of Illinois has decreed that the billboards may be rigidly regulated. The newspapers have joined to wipe out the menace—a reform long sought by the home owner—and the electors can not do their civic duty today unless they voice their protest against the billboard trust.

THE POWER-BOND FOLLY.
 A recognized rule of jurisprudence requires that a plaintiff, praying for relief from some alleged abuse, must come into court with clean hands. The same rule should apply when the whole people are sitting as a court to decide some question of public interest.

Today the voters of the city of Los Angeles are asked to ratify a $2,000,000 bond issue that is to pave the way for other bond issues, which are to furnish the foundation for still other bond issues, that are to supply the credit necessary to enable the city to own and operate an electric light and power system. While this issue is before the people the city administration is seeking to secure from the Railroad Commission the approval of a power contract between the municipality and the Edison Electric Company.

It is admitted that if this contract is not approved by the Railroad Commission there will be no necessity for the proposed $2,000,000 bond issue. But although the attorneys for the city begged for early action the Railroad Commission has not approved the power contract and the option expressed in official circles is that the contract will never be approved in its present form.

When attention is called to some of the extraordinary provisions of that contract it is not difficult to understand the hesitation on the part of the Railroad Commission. The city agrees to purchase of the Edison Company a supply of electricity equivalent to 25,000 horse power at a fixed rate of 1.22 cents per kilowatt hour. At the present time the city has established a schedule of rates under which it delivers electric power to the general public at the rate of 1 cent per kilowatt hour. There is a loss of 10 per cent. in transmission, so the city is really selling at the present time for .9 of a cent power that it buys for 1.22 cents.

In the files of the Railroad Commission are published tariffs showing that the light and power companies supply the street railways here with electric energy at the rate of .65 of a cent per kilowatt hour. The average wholesale price is said to be about .35 of a cent. Naturally the Railroad Commission hesitates to establish the precedent of approving a contract which contains such remarkable provisions.

That the city should be placed in the position of asking for the approval of such a contract is in itself a powerful argument against municipal trading. Seeking to enter the local fields as a distributor of light and power, the city finds itself embarrassed by natural and economic conditions over which it has no control. Recent decisions of the Federal courts have set forth clearly that when a city government goes into the business of retailing light and power it is not exercising a governmental function and must, therefore, be treated just as any other corporation would be treated.

It does not require a financial investigation or inquiry to decide that it is bad business for the city to pay 1.22 cents for power that it will resell at .90. And it does not require a financial inquiry to demonstrate that it would be business wisdom to withhold the approval of that extra $2,000,000 in bonds until we know something more about the final disposition of the power contract now before the Railroad Commission.

COUNCILWOMAN LINDSEY ON THE PRESS.
 Estelle Lawton Lindsey in the role of Joan of Arc saving the nation from a bloodthirsty, tyrannical press is a joy for the gods. Estelle has been hearing voices. Heaven itself has whispered in her ear that she, the triumphant against women, has been chosen (by herself) for this great mission. Who would have thought that a seat on the City Council could lead to such Cour-de-Lionish distinction? With sublime heroism she has declared her intention to die in the great cause if necessary.

Reforming the City Council proved too petty and unworthy a job for Saint Estelle. If we are going to die, dash it all, let us die largely, magnificently, gorgeously. Estelle says she wants to reform the press because she loves it, and whom Estelle loves she would chasten.

But ah, Estelle, you have undertaken a task of vast ramifications. For the press is the people. Without the support of the people the press could not live. And the fact that it thrives so virulently, 'em though so viciously from your point of view, is but proof that people who support the press are themselves in urgent need of reform.

You see, Estelle has not undertaken to reform one newspaper, but all the newspapers. We stand condemned in collective misery. We tremble for our Fate. Our arch-enemy would seem to be that the newspapers would not always print Estelle in full. We have her but a paragraph when her great soul craved an entire issue.

And now she is going to put us all out of business. Yes, even if she is burned at the stake for chirping at a big American Eagle!

REGISTER! REGISTER!
 "Dime ye hear the slogan?" The streets and the valleys and the hill tops are vocal with it. From the dim aisles of northwestern forests, from the white-crested billows of the Great Lakes, from the whirling spindles of New England, from the clanking forges of the Middle West, from the crowded streets of the great marts of commerce, from this fair land where sets the sun, the genius of America arises above the abstractions of party and above the selfish schemes of partisan leaders, and clothed in the purple of the republic, with brow gemmed with the glories of four righteous wars she blows upon her bugle a blast that sends party lines flying away as she calls upon the young men of the nation to register their readiness to fight for republican liberty and for the safety and honor of their country.

Young men, do you love your country? Do you love its institutions and its laws? Do you love its memories and its hopes? Do you love it for what it has been, for what it is and for what it will be? Then heed the call to the registrar's office:

"Come away, come away
 Hark to the summons!
 Come every hill-glad and
 True heart that wears one.
 Come every steel blade and
 Strong hands that bears one.
 Come as the winds come when
 Forests are roused;
 Come as the waves come when

And after you are registered remember that if you are married and your wife is willing to let you go to war, or if your eye-sight is a little defective, or if you are engaged in an industry which would entitle you to exemption, you are not obliged to men on it. Just keep still and maybe you will have the good fortune to be selected to aid in the fight for constitutional freedom assailed by autocracy. It is a conflict in which the souls of our soldiers will be

Rough Going in Kansas.
 [Hutchinson News.] Conductor Henry Slattery, who runs the one passenger train on the railroad between Scott City and Winona, became sick from the motion of the train and had to go to the back platform for fresh air. A sudden jolt of the train, and the conductor was thrown overboard. The train was backed up to Key-stone when it was learned what had happened, but the conductor had been taken home in an automobile.

A Rise in Food.
 [London Opinion.] Officer: Is that soup ready, Jones?
 Officer's Servant: No, sir, the stove went out, sir.
 Officer: Went out! Then why don't you light it again?
 Officer's Servant: 'Cos it went out by the roof, sir.

The quiet-looking boy at the foot of the class had not had a question. His teacher propounded him this one: "In what condition was the patriarch Job at the end of his life?" "Dead," was the calm response. [Providence Journal.]

BRIGHT LIGHTS.

Revenge at Last; or the Tables Turned.

[Douglas Malloch in Judge.] Mrs. Haranger, the advocate of limited edition families, had been forcibly fed in jail, and there was great indignation throughout the city. Some people even proposed going to the extreme of passing some resolutions and sending them to the Mayor.

It was reported that a brutal jailer had held Mrs. Haranger's arms, while another administered malted milk, or some other horrible concoction, with a tablespoon.

A committee hurried to her son's office to see what he intended to do about it. They told him about the arms, and the spoon, and the malted milk.

And what do you suppose the wretch did, that most unkind son? He burst out laughing!

"Really," said Mrs. DeSmaythe, "it doesn't seem to me that this is any time for laughter."

"I know it," replied the son, "and I beg your pardon. But I was just thinking of the time when mother used to get dad to sit on me in bed while she gave me castor oil."

Fatal Symptoms.

"I must recuperate," she said. "My beauty is beginning to fade."

"That so?" said the proprietor. "What makes you think so?"

"The men are beginning to count their change."

How It Struck the Boy.

The host's son was at the table and one of the New York clergymen said to him:

"My lad, what did you think of your father's sermon?"

"I guess it was very good," said the boy, "but there were three mighty fine places where he could have stopped."

Snippy.
 Sillicus: So you think friendship will end in marriage, eh?
 Cynicus: Yes, I guess that will be the end of it.—[Town Topics]

 Ethel: Too long. He hasn't a cent left.—[Boston Transcript]

Friend: How is the patient, doctor?
 Doctor: Um—er—he has a fighting chance to live. Friend: No hope then; he's a pacifist.—[Puck]

Jack: That horse shows as much sense as I do. Belle: Well, don't tell anybody. You may want to sell him some day.—[Philadelphia Bulletin]

WORKERS AND SLACKERS.

National Editorial Service.

BY ROLAND G. USHER.

Author of "Pan-Germanism" and "The Challenge of the Future."

THE registration of men under the act for selective conscription ought to bring home very definitely to the people of this country the precise meaning of conscription, and of selective conscription. The purpose of the government is to use in the army only those men who are not already rendering a necessary service to the state elsewhere. This present crisis is different from most that have preceded it. The army at home is almost if not quite as essential a factor as the army in the field. Without the army in the field indeed nothing could be done, but the army in the field is precisely as helpless today without the army at home as the army at home is without the army in the field.

The tendency is to lay so much stress upon the army in the field that the fact will be forgotten that the purpose of conscription is not so much to put an army in the field, as to prevent the desertion of the army at home by putting into the field an army of volunteers who take themselves out of places where the country needs them vitally, instead of making an army for the field out of the men who are spared at home. The real purpose of conscription is to protect the army at home, to permit the government to select with intelligence instead of allowing volunteering to go on haphazard.

There are obviously two classes of men whom the community needs at home. First and foremost those who are performing work vital to the conduct of the war, of which there are many kinds. In the second place, men upon whom others are dependent and whom it therefore is not expedient to allow to go to the front because the state can care for their dependents most easily by retaining them where they are. If they stay at home no new machinery is required. If they go to the front a very difficult, elaborate piece of machinery will have to be provided to care for the dependents and someone will have to do the work.

The difficulty is that the important and dignified position of the army at home will not be duly appreciated. There is a very real danger that something very like a stigma of shame or dishonor may be attached to men of conscript age who are not in uniform. Nothing more deplorable or contrary to the intentions of the government could take place. It is precisely that which the government is most anxious to avoid.

It is all essential that the work on the farm, in the factory, and in the counting-house should be done. Some work must be done, and better be given up. We shall not need military nor a good many luxuries during the war, but we need the people who now make them somewhere else. That they will perform as honorable, as necessary, as vital, as patriotic a task as the men who are in training is a fact much to be emphasized and emphasized without restraint.

The home army is the enormous majority. The army in the field is (fortunately for us) an inconspicuous minority of the population of this country. We cannot congratulate ourselves on the fact that we do not need to send a larger proportion of the men available for military service. Nothing should be done to diminish the very proper praise and appreciation which the public expresses and ought to express for their service. That that is not being done is a fact that must not be forgotten.

There are a good many men present who are willing and eager to go whom the nation cannot allow to leave their present occupations. Unfortunately this situation protects the slackers, the men who do not want to go, the physical and moral cowards, the laggards, the loafers. It does unquestionably give them an opportunity to plume themselves on their remaining patriotic duties in the home army.

Probably the fellows who do much shouting about their own work in the home army will be precisely the type who are in the trenches. But they will be a minority, a very considerable minority, and we must not run the risk of punishing the millions who are innocent of any design to escape national service in the hands of a few glib, self-satisfied slackers who are going to slip through the government's fingers.

THE NOTION COUNTER.
 [Douglas Malloch in Judge:] I fear I could say a word of serious things, but I could only make myself believe that anybody would take them seriously.

A lot of men who marry to escape service will be coming around later and trying to make the orchestra play.

The first thing that the referee or the minister does is to have the parties shake hands.

Some simplified spellers want to spell it "kiss"; but it is short enough as it is.

This is no comic opera war; that the minister does is to have the parties shake hands.

Speaking of love of country, the men may love it, but the women prefer a summer hotel.

This year we shall have to listen pretty hard to hear the Fourth of July.

In war an "engagement" means a battle; and, for that matter, in matrimony, too.

A date came to judgment; and, also, judgment came to Daniels.

HARBOR PLANS ARE ADVANCED.

Time Opportune for Factory Construction Here.

Clarence E. Matson, secretary and traffic manager of the Harbor Commission, has returned from a sojourn of several weeks in Washington, whither he went to urge governmental co-operation with this city in establishing a steamship line between the port of Los Angeles and the Orient. He made a detailed report to the commission yesterday of the results of his visit. Not only did he present this project to the United States Shipping Board, but, in conjunction with Edward F. Trefz, associate secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, he laid various lines for the advancement of industrial affairs at the harbor.

"I am convinced that this is an opportune time to interest eastern capital in establishing new industries in Los Angeles to manufacture commodities both for the domestic market and for foreign ports," says Mr. Matson.

In his report to the Harbor Commission, Mr. Matson sets forth the plans as presented to the United States Shipping Board, whereby it was proposed that the government act with this city in furnishing, either by construction or otherwise, the necessary vessels for a line to the Orient, leaving such craft to Los Angeles for a term extending until five years after the close of the European war; that the city have the option to purchase these ships at their original value or provide that the net earnings received by the government, less interest, be applied to the purchase price, and that the city have the right to operate the line itself or sublease it to private interests, under the jurisdiction of the Federal Shipping Board.

Members of the board were deeply interested in the project, but, because of the enormous pressure placed upon them to provide for the war emergency, they could not undertake to back the plan at this time. A statement from Theodore Brent, vice-chairman of the board, however, is of interest, showing its attitude. This says:

"Under normal conditions our entire disposition would be to co-operate with you in a scheme of this character, which would link your city to the shipping board in a co-operative effort to secure new trade in the Orient."

"At the present time, when our entire energies are necessarily bent to the task of supplying enough tonnage, both by construction and command, to carry the necessary foodstuffs to our allies, this necessarily puts a stop, for the time being, to our efforts to expand our normal business."

"If, later on, we find that the submarine menace has been met, and we are permitted to put ships into regular trade routes, we shall be very glad indeed to take up again with your body the question presented."

"In the meantime the board is doing all it can to assist the allies to secure the dispatch of oriental freight, such as munitions, equipment, supplies and other necessities for Russia, Vladivostok, through the Pacific ports rather than the Atlantic ports."

Capture.
OPIUM IS SEIZED.
Police, After Three Days Given to Watching Oriental, Arrest Him and Confiscate Dream Stuff, Some of Which is Hidden in Lemons.

After three days of hard work by Officers Katzenberger and Thompson, Hung Hay, a Chinese, was arrested yesterday morning as he reclined upon a hard couch in an alleged opium den at No. 360 1/2, Marchessault street.

Officers Katzenberger and Thompson secured a search warrant yesterday morning from Police Judge Chambers. They had watched the man for three days and say they had seen him sell opium to various members of the local Chinese colony, several of whom are held as witnesses.

With the warrant, the officers entered the Marchessault-street house and after breaking through a stony partition found the Chinese, they say, preparing an opium "pill" for himself. They seized twenty-one cards of opium, several ounces of opium and thirty lemons, in which quantities of opium were secreted.

Those were arraigned before Police Judge Chambers yesterday and his trial was set for Friday. He was released on $200 bail.

Congratulations.
COME IN DROVES.

Four honeymooning couples arrived at the Angeles yesterday in less than that many hours it provided "mirth, frolic and laughter," as a circus poster might say. One group of ambitious friends surrounded the wrong couple, while flowers intended for another bride and groom were delivered to a pair of honeymooners, who naturally were surprised, but nevertheless delighted.

The excitement started when Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Stephens registered from New York. Their coming had been well heralded by telegrams, postcards and other means. They were followed by Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Gross of Portland, Or. Then came Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Wahlgren by auto from San Diego. They were showered with the attentions supposed to be for Mr. and Mrs. Max Rabinowitz, who arrived about two hours later.

All of the couples were recipients of special attentions. One delegation, coming to see Mr. and Mrs. Gross, broke into a wrong room after having slipped by the watchful floor boy.

Three Winners and a Loser.

All Kingsbakers, but divided.

Walter Kingsbaker charged his uncle, Benjamin, and his brothers, Alfred and Harry, with trying to oust him from the firm because of the girl he loves. But the court ruled out all reference to the romantic side of the suit and found for the defendants.

LOSES SUIT AGAINST BROTHERS AND UNCLE.

ROBBED of its most sensational young woman with the action, thus pinning the issue down to whether or not the assessment was valid. Judge Willis sustained the objection and the case proceeded with testimony to show for and against the 20 per cent. levy. Walter E. Kingsbaker contended this assessment was not necessary; that it was in excess of the stipulated amount and should not have been greater than 10 per cent. The officers of the corporation declared it was essential; that it was necessary to raise a certain amount and that it was levied in good faith.

The elder Kingsbaker died in March, 1912. He left half of his estate to his widow and the other half to his children, Alfred T. Harry B. Leonard and Walter S. Kingsbaker. It was alleged in the complaint that they assigned their interests to their mother. The stock was proportioned on the basis of 200 shares to the boys and 100 shares to the daughter, Pauline Kingsbaker. Benjamin Kingsbaker, the uncle, held one share. It was alleged Judge Willis gave judgment for the corporation, holding that the stock assessment was valid and was necessary for the actual expenses of the corporation.

The Public Service.

CITY TREASURY IS SELF-SUPPORTING.
ITS INCOME ALSO AIDS THE OTHER DEPARTMENTS.

Amount of Municipal Funds Deposited in Various Banks has been Increased so the Annual Revenue Therefrom is Approximately $70,000.

City Treasurer Powell yesterday filed with the Mayor and Council his monthly statement, giving some interesting facts regarding the city's finances. He states that the amount of city funds placed in various banks under the county and municipal deposit act—$2,867,385, and yielding a revenue to the city of approximately $48,000 annually—has been increased to $3,417,385, and will now yield $70,000 annually.

The Treasurer calls attention to the fact that the treasury department is self-supporting, besides yielding a handsome profit each year of approximately $40,000 to be distributed for the upkeep of various other departments.

The collections of one month ago amounted to $1,825,168.40. This amount represented taxes in process of collection, which has been realized upon reducing this item to $259,677.77, which represents current collections at the present time. The cash so collected has been placed in reserve, which now shows a balance of $1,123,000 as against $123,000 in the previous statement.

The City Treasurer, who is also custodian and trustee of the various redemption funds of bonds issued for street improvements, has $78,546.12 cents in these funds, which is subject to disbursement to the owners at any time upon presentation by them of the coupons due.

MUNICIPAL GRAMMARS.

SUIT ATTACKS LYONS'S OFFICE.

Would Oust Him as Registrar of Voters.

Forfeited His Position When He Went East?

Salary Warrant for May Held up by Order.

A suit filed yesterday by R. P. Benton, a taxpayer, will test the right of David B. Lyons to the office of Registrar of Voters. The complaint is based on the allegation that Mr. Lyons was absent in Cook county, Illinois, after his appointment as Registrar. It is contended that under the law, his office is vacant inasmuch as he went to Illinois without formal leave of absence having been granted by the Board of Supervisors.

A temporary injunction was issued by Judge Jackson on the application of Attorney George Greer, directed against County Treasurer Hunt, restraining him from paying Mr. Lyons his salary warrant for May. The order to show cause will be heard by Judge Jackson next Monday.

Mr. Lyons's salary previously had been attached by Kate Hegel, under a judgment and placed in the hands of the County Clerk. Following this, Mr. Lyons filed an affidavit for exemption, claiming that his salary was necessary for his personal expenses.

While the courts seated Mr. Lyons the question whether or not his office was vacant by reason of his unauthorized absence from the State was not touched upon. During the litigation following his appointment, first Thomas Meakler was declared the winner and then Mr. Lyons. It was during the interval when he was apparently out of the office that Mr. Lyons says he went East.

HIGHEST BIDDERS.
E. H. Rollins & Sons were the highest bidders yesterday for 140,000 Glendale school district bonds. The premium offered was $325.50.

Financial Expert.

MEMBER OF COMMISSION TO RUSSIA COMES; GOES.

FOLLOWING the American Commission to Russia by a few days, Edward B. Thomas, a Chicago commercial expert and member of the commission, passed through Los Angeles yesterday on his way to Vladivostok. The exact nature of his work for and with the commission he could not reveal.

Mr. Thomas's duties, in a general way, will have to do with the establishment of a sound financial system for the Russian government in its new democratic state. Under the old regime, the finances of the country were sadly and sorely misappropriated. To bring order out of such chaos will be one of the principal tasks of the young financial genius.

He carries with him accredited documents signed by Secretary of State Lansing and other government officials. He is one of a number of experts in various lines who are being sent ahead to prepare affairs for better co-operation from this nation with the new Russia.

WIFE HAS MONEY; HE WANTS ALIMONY.
NEW ORLEANS' ROMANCE LEADS TO DIVORCE COURT.
Had Twelve Thousand Dollars Before Marriage Less than a Year Ago, Now Has None, Husband Testifies—It Is His Second, Her Third, Matrimonial Venture.

A marriage, which followed a romance in New Orleans, and led to the divorce court yesterday, revealed the unusual plea of a husband for alimony. The alimony was applied for by Charles Eisenring from Sarah P. H. Eisenring. The plea is based on the fact that he has nothing and is not physically fit, while his wife has property. This property is a hotel. This, he says, she bought with her money.

Mr. Eisenring testified that he had $12,000 shortly before his last marriage, less than a year ago, and that he gave his wife $5000 before they were married. She declares, on the other hand, that he never gave her a cent. He also asserted that she put $5400 of his money in a hotel, which she is running and that he allowed $5 a week and a room. Mrs. Eisenring replied by asserting that he is conducting the hotel at a loss.

He is 60 years of age and she is 52. It is her third matrimonial venture and his second. They met in New Orleans, where, it is said, she nursed him during an illness.

INCORPORATIONS. The Botello Water Company, incorporators, R. M. Teague, J. S. Billheimer and A. W. Towne; capital stock, $250; subscribed, $100. The California Food Corporation, incorporators, Vernon Campbell, Augustus W. Jackson, F. B. McCroskey, C. Locklin and J. A. Campbell; capital stock, $100,000; subscribed, $700.

FLYING TRUNK CAUSED HURTS.

Boy Sues Utility Concern and Truck Company for Large Sum.

A jury in Judge Houser's court yesterday heard the details of a peculiar accident. The injured person is Charles Grant, 15 years old, a student at the Lincoln High School. Owing to the nature of his injuries he was wheeled into the courtroom on a cot.

The lad was standing on the sidewalk at Ninth and Los Angeles street, January 16, last, when a Pacific Electric car and a Los Angeles Transfer Company's truck collided. A trunk was hurled from the truck and struck the boy. He was badly crippled. He brought suit against both corporations for $25,000 damages.

The bid was referred to the trustees of the school district and the Board of Supervisors for report. The lowest premium offered was $105.50.

WAR WON'T HINDER.

Despite the fact that some fifty students of the college of law, University of Southern California, are at present attending the officers' training camp at the Presidio, and others are already on their way to France with the aviation and the ambulance corps, Dean Frank Monroe Porter of the college announced yesterday that the fall summer course will be given this year as usual.

Beginning next Monday courses will be given in elementary law, domestic relations, damages, private corporations and senior law property. In order to accommodate those who may have to go to war it was announced that the "endless chain of instruction" system will be inaugurated next year. The school year in that event will consist of four quarterly periods of twelve weeks each. This is the system to be in vogue in many of the eastern universities.

MEMBER OF COMMISSION TO RUSSIA COMES; GOES.

FOLLOWING the American Commission to Russia by a few days, Edward B. Thomas, a Chicago commercial expert and member of the commission, passed through Los Angeles yesterday on his way to Vladivostok. The exact nature of his work for and with the commission he could not reveal.

Mr. Thomas's duties, in a general way, will have to do with the establishment of a sound financial system for the Russian government in its new democratic state. Under the old regime, the finances of the country were sadly and sorely misappropriated. To bring order out of such chaos will be one of the principal tasks of the young financial genius.

He carries with him accredited documents signed by Secretary of State Lansing and other government officials. He is one of a number of experts in various lines who are being sent ahead to prepare affairs for better co-operation from this nation with the new Russia.

NEW ORLEANS' ROMANCE LEADS TO DIVORCE COURT.
Had Twelve Thousand Dollars Before Marriage Less than a Year Ago, Now Has None, Husband Testifies—It Is His Second, Her Third, Matrimonial Venture.

A marriage, which followed a romance in New Orleans, and led to the divorce court yesterday, revealed the unusual plea of a husband for alimony. The alimony was applied for by Charles Eisenring from Sarah P. H. Eisenring. The plea is based on the fact that he has nothing and is not physically fit, while his wife has property. This property is a hotel. This, he says, she bought with her money.

Mr. Eisenring testified that he had $12,000 shortly before his last marriage, less than a year ago, and that he gave his wife $5000 before they were married. She declares, on the other hand, that he never gave her a cent. He also asserted that she put $5400 of his money in a hotel, which she is running and that he allowed $5 a week and a room. Mrs. Eisenring replied by asserting that he is conducting the hotel at a loss.

He is 60 years of age and she is 52. It is her third matrimonial venture and his second. They met in New Orleans, where, it is said, she nursed him during an illness.
